SYNTHETIC REVIEW FLOW - NO REAL POLICY

The general condition 1 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The general condition 2 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The general condition 3 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The general condition 4 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The general condition 5 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The general condition 6 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The general condition 7 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The general condition 8 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The general condition 9 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The limit shall not exceed USD 1,000,000 for any claim, provided the written notice has been received. The written condition 1 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The written condition 2 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The written condition 3 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The written condition 4 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The written condition 5 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The written condition 6 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The written condition 7 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The written condition 8 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The office must receive the report within 30 days after the event. The final condition 1 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The final condition 2 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The final condition 3 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The final condition 4 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The final condition 5 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations. The final condition 6 remains in force during the policy period for approved operations.

Administration charge: USD 100

REVIEW COPY - CHECK THE ORIGINAL SOURCES

The remaining terms are unchanged.